It's your future. Get where you want to go with the GRE® revised General Test.

Whether you are planning to go to graduate school or business school — or just exploring your options — you are taking an important step toward your future. And, it is a smart move to show schools your best. With the GRE® revised General Test, you can! That's the Power of Confidence — only with the GRE revised General Test.

Get the Power of Confidence.

The GRE revised General Test gives you the Power of Confidence to help you do your best. With the GRE revised General Test, you decide which scores to send to schools. If you feel you didn't do your best on test day, that's okay. You can retake the test and then send ONLY the scores you want schools to see. It's all part of the ScoreSelect<sup>SM</sup> option, only available with GRE tests. Just knowing you have that option will help you feel more confident on test day. And, in general, studies show that when you feel less anxious, you are more likely to do better.

Plus, the GRE revised General Test is the only admissions test for graduate or business school that lets you skip questions within a section, go back and change answers and have control to tackle the questions within a section you want to answer first. That's great news because research using other tests has shown that when you decide to change an answer, it might actually help you.

It all makes for a test-taker friendly experience that better fits your personal testing strategies while giving you more confidence and the ability to use your scores for thousands of graduate and business schools around the world. That's why it's a smart move to take the GRE revised General Test.

Get the Power of Confidence with the GRE revised General Test and let it take you where you want to go. Register today.

Only the GRE revised General Test:

- Gives you the ScoreSelect<sup>SM</sup> option
- Features a test-taker friendly design
- Is accepted at thousands of graduate and business schools worldwide
- Costs less than other graduate admissions tests that measure the same skills
- Is administered at about 700 test centers worldwide

Put your best scores forward with the ScoreSelect<sup>SM</sup> option.

Test day is a big day. But what if, after seeing your scores at the test center, you feel you did not do your best? It's okay — you do not have to send your scores. With the ScoreSelect<sup>SM</sup> option, you can retake the test and send only the scores you want your schools to see. Knowing you have that option can help you approach test day with even more confidence — and help you focus on doing your best. And it's only available with the GRE revised General Test.

Here's how it works:

Decide on Test Day:

When viewing your scores at the test center, you can choose not to send your scores at this time OR you can select either option below for each of your four FREE score reports:

- Most Recent option: Send your scores from your current test date.
- All option: Send your scores from all test dates in the last five years.

Decide After Test Day:

At any time, you can go online and send additional score reports for a fee and select from these options for each report you'd like to send:

- Most Recent option: Send your scores from your most recent test date.
- All option: Send your scores from all test dates in the last five years.
- Any option: Send your scores from one or as many test dates as you like from the last five years.

No matter which option you choose, you will select by specific test dates, so your scores are all from the same testing session. And the schools you designate will only see the scores you selected to send them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. To learn more, go to ets.org/gre/scoreselect.

Use the test-taker friendly features to do your best.

The GRE revised General Test is the only admissions test for graduate or business school that lets you go through each section of the test in the way that is most comfortable for you. You can preview questions, skip and go back to more challenging questions — even change your answers if you decide later that your first choice was incorrect — all within a section. So, this test-taker friendly design allows you to decide how to approach each question and each section in a way that fits your personal test-taking strategies.

Only the GRE revised General Test lets you:

- Preview and review questions within a section.
- Tag questions with the “mark” and “review” features within a section, so you can skip and return to them later.
- Go back and change answers within a section.
- Use an on-screen calculator for the Quantitative Reasoning section.*

*For those taking the paper-based GRE revised General Test, calculators will be provided.

Get where you want to go with the most widely accepted test for graduate and business schools.

No matter what advanced degree you are considering, you will have more opportunities when you take the GRE revised General Test because it is accepted by both graduate and business schools worldwide.

- Thousands of schools all over the world accept GRE scores, including those in the U.S., the U.K., Canada, China, India, France, Germany and many other countries.
- Scores are used in admissions decisions for all types of master's, M.B.A., specialized master's in business, and doctoral programs as well as for awarding fellowships.
- Business schools around the world, including Harvard, IE, INSEAD, MIT Sloan, Stanford and Singapore Management University accept GRE scores for their M.B.A. programs.

Plus, scores are good for five years, so you can take the test now while you're still deciding what to do.

*Test-taker friendly experience, more confidence and the ability to use your scores for thousands of graduate and business schools worldwide.

Let's take a closer look.

Graduate and business schools want to be sure that you have the skills you need to succeed in their demanding programs. The GRE® revised General Test measures your verbal reasoning, quantitative reasoning, critical thinking and analytical writing skills — skills that are not related to a specific field of study, but are important for all.

Testing around the world.

In most regions of the world, the computer-based test is available on a continuous basis throughout the year. In Mainland China, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Korea, the computer-based test is available 1 to 3 times per month.

In areas of the world where the computer-based test is not available, the test is administered in a paper-based format up to three times a year in October, November and February.

Two free ways to help show schools you are the right fit for their programs.

We offer additional tools and services that can help you stand out during the recruitment and admissions process.

GRE® Search Service: Help schools find you.

Add your unique profile to the free GRE® Search Service database. Graduate and business school recruiters around the world use this database to find prospective students like you. If you match their recruitment profile, you could receive information about their programs, admissions requirements — even scholarships and fellowships to help pay tuition. Learn more at ets.org/gre/perfectmatch.

ETS® Personal Potential Index (ETS® PPI): Show schools your potential.

ETS® PPI complements your GRE scores and transcripts by giving schools an opportunity to learn more about your strengths in the six areas that deans and faculty have identified as important for success in graduate study:

- Knowledge and Creativity
- Teamwork
- Planning and Organization
- Communication Skills
- Resilience
- Ethics and Integrity

Register for the GRE revised General Test and you can send up to four free ETS PPI reports to the schools of your choice — an $80 value!
